THE REJUVENARY RIVER CIRCUS

A story about the life of a river

THIS CIRCUS IS AN ALLEGORY featuring gorgeous masks and puppet characters, a unique hand-made set and live original music. The story follows Malakai, a messenger and water carrier who travels between Mountain Peaks and the Deep Blue Sea.

Along his journeys Malkai encounters a host of creatures, including a lyrical sea turtle, a fast-talking crow, a pair of industrious beavers, beds of filter-feeding oysters, and schools of migrating fish. Each animal offers insights into their particular role in a watershed's ecosystem services.

When the old man falls ill his granddaughter Rachel must rise to the challenge and help restore her grandfather, the River, back to health.

CIRCUS runs one hour in length and is ideally suited for family audiences, arts-in-education settings and watershed awareness events. It can be presented on a stage, a large room or out-of-doors.
